

SPECULATING IN MAY WHEAT NOW UNDER BAN

Wiped From Chicago Board of Trade and Settlement Price
Fixed at $3.18 a Bushel

TRADING IN JULY AND SEPTEMBER GOES ON

Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce Continues Dealing in Futures as Usual

UPWARD TREND.

Minneapolis, May 12.—Flour prices continued their upward trend and Fancy Patent touched the new high point of $17.10 a barrel, 40c above yesterday's top figure. First clears advanced 50c, being quoted at $14.90.

Chicago, May 12.—The settlement price for May wheat wiped from the board of trade yesterday as a speculative option was fixed today at $3.18 per bushel, the price committee headed by James A. Patten, believing that the proper figure because it was established by competitive bidding at the close of yesterday.

Sensational Advances.
The most sensational advance in the history of the present crop, if not in all history, marked trading in wheat today, following the withdrawal of May wheat as a speculative option.
Net gains of from 27 to 32c were scored in July, which closed at t 27.75, and in September, which closed at the high figure of $2.46. It was said the Entente Allies were large holders of July and September contracts, and probably would insist on the delivery of wheat as called for.

SPECULATION CONTINUES.
The elimination of May wheat by no means relieves speculation in grain.
While the trade previously entered into in this fund was a heavy aggregate the market has been comparatively inactive recently. Buyers and sellers alike were awaiting events, allies and not a few expected such action was taken yesterday and today. Asked if action was contemplated to prevent a repetition in July of the May situation, Mr. Patten said it remained for the future to decide.

PRICES NOT DISTURBED.
The price of July and September wheat were little disturbed today by the fixing of May. July opened 1-4c to 3-4c at $2.40 1-2 to $2.46 and September 1-4c to 1-2c at $2.16 to $2.14.
There are public elevators 219,000 bushels of wheat required for delivery on July contracts. A rough estimate of the amount contracted for a perhaps a hundred times that quantity.

Thus, had not the board of trade interference probably 90 per cent of the contracts would have had to be settled at any price, even $10.00 a bushel demanded by the holders of the contracts, in trade parlance known as "long". They held the sellers, or
"short" absolutely at their mercy.

DIFFERS FROM A CORNER.

The situation differs from a corner in that the holders were scattered, whereas in a manipulated market the supply is congested in the hands of an individual or group of speculators acting as one man. As a matter of fact, the allied governments through their commissioners, held a market corner.
At one time they were "short" 29,000, two bushels in the Chicago market.
They had wanted the actual grain, but finding that the ships necessary to carry it abroad were unavailable, reduced their holdings and took a handsome profit. One small European government lost a big speculative profit by the fixing of the settlement price today.

TO CONTINUE TRADING.

Minneapolis, May 12.—The board of directors of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce decided to continue trading in May wheat.

PATRIOTIC MOVE.

Kansas City, May 12.—New trading in May wheat on the local board of trade has been discontinued under the terms of a special resolution taken by the board of directors of the Kansas City board of trade. It was explained that the action was taken as a patriotic move.

MAY CALL FOR DELIVERY.

Minneapolis, May 12.—A. G. Anderson, vice chairman of the British food commission; James Stewart, Winnipeg, representative of the commission in western Canada, and a committee of western grain-men met here today to discuss the situation.
No statement was given out after the meeting, which was held behind closed doors. A report was current in Minneapolis, co-incident with the arrival of the British commissioners and grain men, that in addition to the 700,000 bushels of wheat now being loaded out of the elevators at Minneapolis and Duluth for England, that the English government has other purchases of May wheat, which it purposes calling for delivery.

NO PEACE PACT WITH ENTENTE

Washington, May 12.—Secretary Lansing today denied published reports that the United States has an agreement with the Entente allies not to make a separate peace with Germany, by saying:
"There is no agreement, written or unwritten relative to peace."

GEORGE H. RUSS AND J. P. TUCKER TO FT. SNELLING

Only Two Bismarck Men Designated to Date—Training Begins Next Tuesday

CAPT. A. A. JONES MAY BE IN TRENCHES SOON

George H. Russ, Jr., cashier of the Bismarck bank, and J. P. Tucker, bookkeeper in the offices of the Board of Regents, yesterday received instructions from Col. Sage, commander of the Fort Snelling officers' training camp, to report there immediately for enrollment in the first list of 1,500 candidates to be schooled for commissioning with Uncle Sam's initial army contingent of 500,000 men.

ONLY TWO BISMARCK MEN

Russ and Tucker, so far as can be ascertained, are the only Bismarck men designated to date. Both are men of mature years. Each has had considerable military training. Mr. Russ is a veteran of the Thirteenth Pennsylvania volunteers, which rendered good service in the Spanish war. Mr. Tucker is a graduate of a military school.

Mr. Tucker leaves this evening and Mr. Russ on Sunday evening for Ft.
Snelling, where they will enter upon their three months' grind at 4:30 sharp next Tuesday morning when revolver will rout out of bed 1,500 sleepy civilians who have not risen so early for many a year.

CARDS RECEIVED

The cards received by successful Bismarck candidates read: "You are authorized to report at this camp for the training authorized by the war department. Upon receipt of this card, you will start at once. Bring this card with you and present it to the camp commandant on arrival.—Colonel Sage." Start at once! In military parlance usually means within 48 hours, although that strict rule will not apply in this instance. Arrived at Fort Snelling, the candidates will take a special enlistment oath covering a period of three months, binding themselves if qualified at the end of that period to accept a commission in the United States army for the duration of the war. If sufficient progress has not been shown, the student at the end of three months may be discharged or assigned to the officers' reserve corps, which will first be drawn upon for officers for other contingents to be raised.

JONES MAY GO SOON

A. A. Jones, chief train dispatcher for the Soo line, and who recently was commissioned captain in the quartermaster reserve corps, may be the first Bismarck man to see the trenches.
It is probable that owing to his knowledge of railroading, Captain Jones will be called out with the engineers corps to consist entirely of railroad men and which will be sent to France as soon as it can be organized to assist the allies in handling transportation problems which will arise out of the shipping of American troops and supplies to the front.

Mr. Jones has sold his Bismarck residence property and is prepared to leave on 24 hours' notice. Frayne Baker, who holds the same rank in the quartermaster corps, probably will be called into service early. His knowledge of transportation covers the steamboating end, and it is likely that Uncle Sam will soon have need for every officer he can command who knows anything of handling vessel traffic.

THARALSON APPLIES

One of the last applicants for admission to the officers' training camp was Noel Tharalson, assistant cashier of the Killdeer State bank. Mr. Tharalson arrived in Bismarck just in time to get his application in the hands of Capt. B. F. Ristine before the entries were closed. He is a son of Adjutant General T. H. Tharalson and a brother of Major Paul Tharalson of the quartermaster corps.

GAS SHELLS WORRY TEUTONS ALONG ARRAS

German Military Expert Says
British Tank Wonderful
Implement of War

SEES REAL BATTLE
IN NEAR-FUTURE

Present Engagements Are More Skirmishes Preparatory to Decisive Struggle

Copenhagen, May 12.—British armored cars and gas grenades evidently are giving considerable trouble and cause for worry to the Germans on the western front, notwithstanding the slightest reference made to them in the official statements. Lieutenant Von Aldeme, the new military expert of the Berlin Tagesblatt attributes the success of the British in their drive at Arras April 9 largely to gas shells which lay such a curtain of gas before the artillery that the Germans were hampered sorely in their work. He claims on the other hand that the French suffered from the German artillery's defensive gas on the Aisne a week later.

PRaises TANK

Baron Von Aldeme says the British tank is probably the most amazing weapon which modern land warfare has produced. He admits they have caused the Germans heavy losses, particularly by their tanking fire, although they are by no means invulnerable to the German artillery fire.

STRUGGLE COMING

The Baron avers that the line of villages along which the Anglo-German struggle is now raging lies in advance of the main Hindenburg line, and that consequently the eventual loss of these villages, including Bullecourt, could not be deemed a decisive event. This admission indicates that the Germans are reckoning on the loss of Avion on the Opy, Roubaix and other towns.

As to the French battle front, Baron Aldeme says that the struggle along the Chemin des Dames, in other words would be a battle on account of the men engaged, but in the present instances they are merely skirmishes, preliminary to a gigantic struggle coming.

MOBILIZATION OF THE GUARD COMING SOON

Inspector-Instructor Captain Ristine Receives Orders to Muster in Regiment

Instructions received by Capt. B. F.
Ristine this afternoon for the immediate mustering into federal service of the remainder of the North Dakota National guard is taken to indicate that mobilization will follow soon. N. A. Mason, secretary to Governor Frazier, advised late this afternoon that no mobilization order had yet been issued.

Captain Ristine, United States army inspector-instructor assigned to the North Dakota National guard, has to date mustered in only the Second battalion, Companies A, F, K and H, Bismarck, Mandan, Dickinson and Jamestown, respectively. The other battalions will be immediately mustered in, as will the headquarters company, sanitary detachment and Grand Forks machine gun company, more or less independent organizations.

The immediate mobilization may be in battalions or as a regiment, but no information on this point is forthcoming.

HANNA LOSES ROUND IN FAMOUS MEDINA BANK LITIGATION

Former Governor L. B. Hanna and the First National bank of Fargo lost a round in the famous Medina bank case this afternoon, when the supreme court of North Dakota reversed the Cass county district court order sustaining a demurrer to the complaint, filed by Receiver Murphy, and remanded the case to the lower court.

This means that the case will come up for trial on its merits in the Cass county court. The action arises out of the closing of the Medina bank.
The receiver contends that former Governor Hanna and the First National bank of Fargo failed to come to the rescue of the institution as they had planned.

LIEUTENANT WILSON NOW

mally commissioned captain of Co. F, succeeds Captain Wilson as first lieutenant and John A. Timmerman succeeds Renden as second lieutenant.

Albert Bohlen is commissioned first lieutenant of Co. K, Dickinson, ant.

TARIFF BOARD SEEKS TO STOP OLD PRACTICE

Would Make Tariff Schedules Effective on Date When Bill Is Introduced

VIOLENT PROTESTS ON WAR TAX MEASURE

Many Manufacturers Say They Face Ruin if the Rates Are Imposed

Washington, May 12.—The new tariff commission's first act has been to recommend legislation expected to save to the country millions of dollars in revenue.

The commission proposes that all the customs increases proposed in the war tax bill shall become collective from the date of the reporting of the bill to the house and thus the commission hopes to stop the usual practice of importers of rushing in great quantities of products on which they know duties are to be raised.
Consumers, they say, always had bought the products at increased rates.

While the house debate on the $1,800,000,000 war tax bill was getting under way today, the senate in-finance committee heard violent protests from big and little interests on which the new law would fall.

Manufacturers who would have to pay the increased excise profits tax, distillers, brewers and soft fountain interests affected by the higher rates on alcoholic and soft drinks, and to bacco companies hit by the tobacco tax, all told the senate committee that they faced ruin if the bill went through as presented in the house.

Nearly every witness declared their particular business seemed to have been made the target for an unjust and exorbitant tax.

Bill Under Fire.

In the house, too, many portions of the bill were under fire, but the reply of Democratic and Republican leaders in charge was that the money must be raised and only high taxes could provide it. Representative Fordney of Michigan, ranking Republican on the ways and means committee, made a four-hour speech for the measure. He said he agreed with Democratic Leader Kitchin that the bill had some faults, but that on the whole it was equitable and should be passed to meet the war emergency.

Only the excess profits, liquor, beer, soft drinks and tobacco schedules were considered today by the senate committee. The hearings are expected to close Tuesday.

The income tax increase and the rise in postal rates consumed a large part of the time today in the house debate.

Replying to critics of the income tax section, Mr. Forney said the house that "there is a limit to which the government can go and take from a man his income until he begins to evade the law."

Republican Leader Mann asked if it would not be fairer to tax newspaper and magazine advertising than to put the proposed additional postage rate on second class mail matter.
Mr. Fordney replied that this would be a tax on volume of business and an unjust tax.

Representative Hull of Iowa also opposed the increased rates for magazines and newspapers and challenged statements that the government is now losing millions annually on this class of business. The debate will be continued tomorrow.

It was a gloomy picture that protestants against the war tax increases presented for the senate committee.
Disorganization of industries, closed factories, discharged employees, reduced prices to producer and destruction of retailers were among the predictions.

lers and industrial organizations de-

Everywhere That "Billie" Goes His Guard Is Sure to Follow; Three Musketeers on the Job

Sheriff French received long distance phone instructions from Minot last night for the arrest of Langer. Not having in his possession any warrant calling for the arrest of the attorney general, the sheriff declined to act. No warrant had been received here up to noon today.

At noon today Attorney General Langer was still alive, untouched, unharmed. As Damon unto Pythias and Jonathan unto David are the attorney general's loyal bodyguard of three musketeers. Everywhere that William goes the guard is sure to be.
Whether the four last evening piled into one bed or used twin couches, or whether, in good old Dumas style, Porthos stretched himself across the door while D'Artagnan slept and Athos sighed, the records do not show. Certain it is that Langer dined with his guardsmen told; that all yesterday afternoon they were posted one within his private sanctum, one in his general reception chamber and one in the corridor leading to the attorney general's office, armed to the teeth, deadly, warning from the spot every man and thing that made a noise like a warrant server.

Attorney General William Langer late last night authorized the following statement, which explains the reason for a body-guard of three men accompanying him about the city or wherever his presence is made in public:
"The interview given by Governor Frazier to you yesterday afternoon embodies all that is to be said on the subject of my going to Camp Frazier. The protection the governor referred to in his interview is simply the protection to enable me to escape arrest while I am doing necessary urgent work in my department."

"Governor Frazier feels that he needs me at Bismarck and I will not return to Minot until he wishes me to. His judgment is conclusive as far as I am concerned. The guard of militiamen that he and the adjutant general have given me will keep anyone from arresting me."

Little Sidelights.
Some interesting sidelights on the farious arrest of Langer, the most monumental bit of burlesque ever staged by a governor and an attorney general in the history of this state, and, probably, in that of any other, slowly are leaking out. The "arrest" was made at the governor's mansion, where Langer was kept in hiding until some protesting guard-men could be picked off the street, smuggled into the governor's car and deprived of their dinner, while the precious body and invaluable brain of Limeight Bill were conveyed under guard to the river, in order that he might trespass on restricted ground at Camp Frazier and be placed under arrest by federal troops.

Governor Excited.
State troops were used in the curtain-raiser because the federal troops could not be removed from the reservation, even for so important a duty as that of saving to posterity William S. Langer. One of the boys was making garden when he was halted forth protesting. Another was on his way home from work. The governor, 'tis said, was frantic with excitement, and he sallied forth himself up and down the highways and by-ways seeking guardsmen who would guard Limeight Bill. There was considerable excitement in other sources, and much laughter all around as the capitol gradually grew wise to what was going on. All in all, it was quite the best bit of entertainment which has been afforded the house on the hill in many a moon. Langer's administration gives every promise of being all that has been expected of it.

WILSON NAMES WAR MISSION TO VISIT RUSSIA

Charles Edward Russell, General
Scott, Cyrus McCormick
and Others on Board

Washington, May 12.—Official announcement today of the personnel of the American commission to Russia marked a forward step in President Wilson's efforts to thwart Germany's intrigues for a separate peace with the new democracy and to hold the provisional government fast to the cause of the war against Prussian autocracy.

Headed by Elihu Root, with powers of a special ambassador, the personnel of the commission was chosen with special regard to conditions in Russia and the character of the new government.

NEWSPAPER MEN ON BOARD

Besides Mr. Root, who represents the element of statesmanship with the distinction of having held many high offices in the United States, the commission includes men from every walk of life, its other members being:

Charles R. Crane, Chicago, manufacturer; John R. Mott, of New York, general secretary, international committee of Y. M. C. A.; Cyrus McCormick, Chicago, president of the international harvester company; Samuel R. Gorton, New York banker; James P. Mullan, vice-president American Federation of Labor; Charles Edward Russell of New York, author and newspaper writer; Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff, U. S. A.; Rear Admiral James H. Gannett, U.
S. N.

The commission will be accompanied by a large suite and will depart from the United States at an early date by a route which will not be published in advance.

13-YEAR-OLD GIRL ENIGMA TO THE POLICE

Asserts She Is Innocent of Murder of Her Little Playmate

Chicago, May 12.—A psychological enigma to the police, Doris Anderson, the 14 year old girl held in connection with the death of Grace Hagemann, today clung steadfastly to her declaration that she was innocent of the death of her thirteen year old chum. With cool suavity she insisted that Grace killed herself for the love of a 14 year old school boy. When she was told that a coroner's autopsy disclosed that the girl was killed with a bullet, which struck her full in the breast and not in the back as Doris said, the pluck faced child shook her curls and said:
"I was so excited that really I did not know whether Grace was shot in the back or in the breast."

HOLWEG WILL POSTPONE HIS PEACE SPEECH

Copenhagen, May 11. The Germania, the organ of the Clerical party, indicates that Chancellor Von Holweg does not intend to make a statement with regard to peace terms before the Reichstag. The Chancellor apparently has won over the Centrists and part of the National Liberty delegation to his view that a discussion of peace terms at the present time is inadvisable. In view of the attitude of majority leaders of the socialist it would not be surprising if the Socialists also abandon their intention of forcing a peace speech. The result of the proposed intervention is very likely to be a controversy between the opponents and supporters of the Chancellor, rather than a debate on peace.
The Conservatives are growing more desperate as the work of the constitutional revision committee proceeds without any intervention of the government to dam the waves of reform which threatens the political influence of the Junkers.

PERSHING MAY HEAD TROOPS TO AID ALLIES

Washington, May 12.—Revival of speculation as to the mission in Washington of Major General Pershing was met at the war department today that nothing could be given out at that connection at this time. The department declined to comment in any way on reports that General Pershing would command an expedition to France.

HAIG DELIVERS TELLING BLOWS ON WEST FRONT

Hindenburg Line Pierced in Successful Plunge Near Bullecourt and Along Arras

GERMAN CONCENTRATION
NOT RAPID ENOUGH

French Keeping Up Destructive Fire on Aisne and Champagne Lines

TEDDY CAN GO.

By a vote of 215 to 178 the house today, after a stormy debate, voted to instruct its committees on the army bill to restore the army amendment to permit Colonel Roosevelt to lead an expedition to France.

Telling blows were struck by the British at the Hindenburg line last night and today. Near Bullecourt, where the line has been pierced, another successful plunge was made by General Haig's troops.

Further north, beyond the Scarpe and along the Arras-Cambrai road, ground also was gained. The purpose of the attack was completely attained, the London official statement declares.

Did Not Check Haig.

The German concentration of men and guns here apparently has not been able to prevent General Haig's troops from pushing ahead when he was ready.

Several hundred prisoners were taken by the British in the operation, which the official report characterizes as "very successful."

On the Aisne and Champagne fronts, the French are keeping up a destructive fire and harrying the Germans by outpost attacks. Less energy is being displayed by the German artillery along the Marne than by the French, the only exception being the Verdun region, where violent fighting in the neighborhood of Vro-court wood is reported.

Nothing spectacular has occurred in connection with the British campaign in Mesopotamia since early this month, but an official statement issued in London today reports clearing operations on the Tigris. The Turks have been pushed out virtually of all the lowlands north of Bagdad, 60 to 80 miles from that city.

DENIES REPORT OF ARREST OF ATTY. TWIFORD

(Special to Tribune) Minot, N. D., May 12.—The state's attorney's office today denied the report that a warrant had been issued for the arrest of Attorney Twiford for violation of the liquor laws. First Assistant Attorney General Brennan states that big developments are likely to take place this afternoon.

Convention To Be Held At Forks

Republicans of the First congressional district will hold a convention at Grand Forks, June 20, for the purpose of nominating a candidate to succeed the late Henry T. Holgeen.

This was decided at a meeting of 17 members of the state central committee held in Fargo last night. The convention will be attended by 207 delegates from 13 counties in the district, elected at county conventions, the date for which was recommended by last night's meeting for June 13.

Ice Cream Cones New Hog Feed

Chicago, May 12.—New food for hogs has been found in the shape of ice cream cones. Recently Edward and Nelson Morris, packers, purchased several tons of broken cones from manufacturers at $25.00 a ton and fed them to the hogs as an experiment. Corn costs $1.50 to $1.70 a bushel and the cone diet not only proved a saving of money, but it produced a superior class of hogs according to Morris, who said the price paid for them on the market was within a few cents of the high

Wife Confesses to Save Husband From Death Chair

Prof. Charles E. Vawter, recently found not guilty of the murder of Stockton Heth, Jr., who had been intimate with his wife. To save her husband Mrs. Vawter told the story of her affection for Heth.
Vawter is shown here with his wife and two children. He expects to enlist in the engineers corps.

The Jamestown delegation met with an enthusiastic reception and citizens of Spiritwood pledged their support to the move to aid dependents of soldiers, sailors and marines engaged in the world war.

PAPER COMPANY LOSES
$10,000 IN WINONA FIRE

(Special to Tribune)
Winona, Minn., May 12.—Fire, which the authorities believe to have been of incendiary origin, late last night destroyed two storage buildings of the Winona Pulp & Paper company, a new industry of this city, with a loss of $10,000. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but it was said that a man was seen running from the building shortly after the flames were discovered. An investigation is being made.

MONETARY VALUE OF
SENTENCE INCREASES

Winona, Minn., May 12.—The monetary value of a jail sentence has increased, according to Municipal Judge Fitzpatrick, who yesterday changed the alternate of a $5 sentence to two days in jail, in cases brought before him. Heretofore it has always been three days. The increase in laboring men's wages was responsible for the change, the judge says.

MRS. ROE PRESIDENT

(Special to Tribune)
Hazelton, N. D., May 12.—It isn't the war cloud which threatens to play havoc with a baseball team at Hazelton this year, but a $300 deficit from last year, and the fact that many of last year's best players have left the city. It's a case of a game between the fans and the team whenever the fans feel the baseball bug stinging them.

HAD A FIT

Bismarck, May 12.—A sad case was brought before the people of this city a few days ago. A man of middle age went into one of the popular stores and had a fit.

Before leaving for home he said, "Klein, that's the best fit I ever had. You certainly can sell my clothes in the future."

He is only one of hundreds who have had "fits" in this popular tailoring and cleaning establishment.

BOARD OF REGENTS SETS SCHEDULE FOR MEETINGS AT STATE INSTITUTIONS

The state board of regents today announced the schedule set for its May meetings as follows:

Valley City—May 21.
Fargo—May 22.
Wahpeton—May 23.
Ellendale—May 24.

The board will return to Fargo on May 25, when bids will be opened for the Mayville normal dormitory. The $20,000 appropriation made for this building by the fifteenth assembly was vetoed by Governor Frazier, but there is available $50,000 which has accumulated in the institution funds which will provide a fair building, even at present heavy construction costs.

Ask Requisitions.
The board has advised all educational institutions under its control to file their requisitions for supplies for the next half-year. The principal item to be purchased at this time will be fuel. Lignite is burned almost exclusively by all of the institutions.

Getting Back Pay.
Money which was held up pending the decision of the board of regents on a suit now is available. The university today received $22,500 in past due warrants, ranging from $1,400 to $8,500. The agricultural college gets $20,000, and the Valley City normal $12,000, representing four months' accumulations in special appropriation warrants.

SEVEN CHARGES PLACED AGAINST OLAF OLSON

Wealthy Minot Hotel Man Re-Arrested Last Night for Taking Money From Prostitutes

Advice received in the city last night told of the re-arrest of Olaf Olson, proprietor of the Lexington hotel at Minot, on seven additional charges, said to have been preferred through the state's attorney of Ward county and Assistant Attorney General Brennan.

Tuesday Olaf Olson was arrested on the charge of operating a house of prostitution and released on $3,000 bail. Last night's warrant for his second arrest charges receiving proceeds from prostitutes, and on this offense he was released on $14,000 bail bonds. The latter charges are punishable by prison sentences. He is one of the wealthiest men of Ward county.

Federal Officers to Scene.
Several federal officers have arrived at Minot, according to word from The Tribune's correspondent this afternoon, and are investigating alleged violation of the Mann act. Prominent citizens in other parts of the state and in Minnesota may be connected with the federal charges which are expected momentarily. Seven girls, taken in a raid Monday morning, are said to have implicated prominent men of the state who have helped the white slave traffic to flourish in and out of Minot and have been regular patrons of the houses of ill-fame.

Girl Tells Pitiful Story.
The tales of some of the girls taken in Monday's raid are pitiful. One young lady told how she had been practically kept a prisoner in houses of vice for several months. She told how she was forced to give up all her money and how she was unable to secure enough funds to flee from the place. She also declared that she was forced to pay over money to a certain prominent and influential citizen of Minot.

NO ACTION BY PHONE COMPANY AGAINST LINGER

Fargo, N. D., May 12.—Judge Palda of Minot, who has made a complaint against Attorney General Linger in Minot for interfering with the telephone service in the raids of last Monday night does not represent the telephone company in this action, according to a statement made by Robert F. Pack, president of the Northern States Power company, which owns the Minot telephone system.

"Our manager in Minot called me up Tuesday," and asked if we should not proceed against the officers who closed down our exchange while the raids were in progress," said Mr. Pack. "I told him under no circumstances to do that. While the action of the authorities may have been irregular, I recognize that they were representing the power of the state, and I am quite willing to overlook any technical rights that we may have. I instructed our manager merely to have our attorney keep watch of developments so as to protect us in case we should be attacked because of the interruption in our services. Judge Palda, in whatever action he has taken against the officers who interrupted the telephone service, does not represent the telephone company. We are not parties to the complaint."

Additional Names Added to "Committee of 46" at Meeting Held at Commercial Club

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN AT ONCE FOR MEMBERS

The "Committee of 46" of the Bismarck Red Cross society, in session at the Commercial club rooms last night, voted to clasp hands with other patriotic organizations of the city in procuring speakers, music and lending assistance for a fitting observance of Memorial day. The committee went on record as favoring community singing of patriotic airs as one of the events for the day.

The meeting was called by Secretary Keniston of the Commercial club, chairman of the Red Cross committee. The members concurred in the recommendation made by the executives of the provisional organization that a campaign be launched immediately for memberships.

"You may not, perhaps, you cannot, but you can put your time and money in working out the ideas of the Red Cross society," was one of the statements made by Secretary Keniston in explaining the ways in which one may show his or her patriotism.

He stated that the national Red Cross society is in need of funds now if at any time in the history of the organization and that the local unit will be unable to serve unless a program is mapped out and carried into effect. This program, to raise funds, was left in the hands of the executive committee.

A committee of three, consisting of Dr. Hutcheson, B. C. Marks and I. C. Davis, was named to make arrangements for a Memorial day parade. The men will confer with committees from the G. A. R. and other patriotic organizations.

Additional names were added to the "Committee of 46" until it is now the "Committee of 52." These names are: Mrs. A. S. Hoffman of the W. C. T. U.; G. N. Ljvdaal of the Sons of Norway; A. W. Patzman of the M. B. A.; John L. George, U. C. T.; R. L. Best, Yeoman; H. M. Beall, I. O. O. F.; and Mrs. Mattie S. Everts, Rebekahs.

Among the lines of work suitable for an auxiliary to undertake are the making of hospital garments or surgical dressings, organizing classes of instruction in first aid in elementary hygiene, home care of the sick, or in home dietetics, securing members, raising funds or collecting supplies in response to an appeal from the central committee.

clared the excess profits tax was discriminatory against corporations. The greatly increased tax on distilled liquors, the committee was told, would decrease production and revenues, as well as encourage illicit traffic.

The brewery interests said many small breweries would be forced to close.

Tomorrow the committee will consider the tax levies on public utilities, amusements, club dues, insurance and general manufactures, including automobiles, moving picture films, cosmetics and chewing gum.

FRIEND OF LANGER SLATED TO SUCCEED DEVINE AT MANDAN?

Charles McDonald, former sheriff of Morton county, and warm friend of William Langer, called on the attorney general shortly after the latter's return to the capitol under guard yesterday.

McDonald, rumor has it at Mandan, is looking for something in return for his support of Langer. The story generally current is that he has his eyes on the superintendency of the state industrial training school, which long has been held by Joseph M. Devine, former governor of North Dakota.

This is one of the first appointments which the board of control will have to make, when Anderson and Nagel succeed Lewis and Olson. There never has been any thought of removing Devine, whose administration has been eminently satisfactory, and he is generally thought to stand well with Governor Frazier, but tales of McDonald's ambitions are very persistent.

EIGHT OVERLANDS BOUGHT

Lahr Motor Sales Company Reports Business Exceptionally Good in Sales of New Cars.

Bismarck seems to be quite an attraction for automobile dealers. Yesterday eight Overland cars were driven out of the city.

John Sailer, a leading merchant of Stanton, drove away three; W. M. Scott, mayor of Arena, took two; Jake Schmid, popular business man of Wilton, drove away one; H. G. Higgins, banker of Baldwin, took one, and a car for H. O. Batzer, banker and Overland dealer at Hazelton, was driven out by Miss Kurtz of the same city.

The Lahr Motor Sales company reports business especially good. In fact, the company's men say it is impossible to obtain enough cars to fill the demand, which is more evidence that the war situation is not affecting business in this territory.

Where there is a mother in the house, matters speed well.
 —A. B. Alcott.

MOTHER!

Tomorrow is Mothers' Day—in Mother's Year.

Now, as never before, motherhood is meeting its supreme test of love, of sacrifice, and of devotion.

Motherhood this year are giving the sons the drive for the service of their country, following with aching hearts the dangers that their sons endure in our great crusade for the freedom of the world.

Mother-love acquires a new meaning by this unselfish gift.

As mothers singly will sacrifice anything for the benefit of their children, so mothers collectively are sacrificing all for the benefit of the world at large.

As mother-love embraces each son and daughter, so motherhood-love envelops and protects the nation.

Let us honor our mothers today and tomorrow, and let us honor our mothers and all mothers from now into the future.

For this is Mothers' Year.

TO RESIST ARREST.

If Langer's own statement can be believed, Governor Frazier called out the national guard to assist the attorney general in his attempt to evade and, if necessary, resist arrest.

The Tribune is not concerned with the merits of the case against him in Minot for shutting off the telephone service. It approves heartily of the raid which is reported to have given the Magic City a thorough and much needed housecleaning, but the method of procedure can hardly be condoned.

It is the sworn duty of the attorney general and of every states attorney to purge communities of law-breakers. There is no occasion for delicacy or martyrdom for doing a plain duty.

All praise to the states attorney of Ward county.

But what was "Limelight Bill's" part in the raid? He headed an armed guard and descended upon a room full of telephone girls, busy at their work speeding messages, many of them doubtless urgent and concerned vitally with the peace, health and safety of the community. Reports state that these girls were driven away from the switchboard and the exchange was "dead" for a period of fifty-three minutes.

There was a display of firearms, threats to shoot, while several girls cowered in fear.

If the raid had been properly planned, telephone assistance would have availed little. Mr. Langer's action in heading the telephone raid looks mighty like a cheap effort at the spectacular hardly befitting the dignity which is supposed to clothe the office of attorney general.

None of these facts, however, militates the use of national guardsmen by Governor Frazier to assist Mr. Langer in resisting arrest. Surely Mr. Langer is in no danger of bodily injury in Bismarck. This is a community of law and order and the presence of an armed guard savors of the ridiculous.

But Mr. Langer admits that the guard is to prevent his arrest. Is he afraid to go back to Minot and face the aftermath of a righteous raid on the forces of evil? If the raid is the result of pique over the war, it will fall of its own weight. Every hour Mr. Langer resists service of the warrant only weakens his case and puts the governor in anything but an enviable position.

Is it to be inferred that in future if any state official is wanted on a charge of violating a statute, Governor Frazier will call out the national guard to protect him against arrest? Whither are we drifting?

The way of a wife with a home is a dare-devil proposition these days, with potatoes nine for a quarter.

SECRET DIPLOMACY.

Secretary of State Lansing has announced that any employee of the state department who gives out information that can be made the basis of criticism of the department's policies will be summarily dismissed.

Under a strict interpretation of this order Lansing himself would be the first to be fired.

For it would be difficult to imagine a departmental policy inviting more wholesale criticism than the announcement by the secretary himself that the United States is to make secret diplomacy the basis for our wartime activities.

It's getting to be the regular thing for sons of cabinet members to enlist. Good boys!

WATCH RUSSIA!

The following from the grain letter of C. A. King & Co. of Toledo is interesting because it expresses a big idea in remarkably terse and understandable language:

"Watch Russia. Kaiser is trying to make a separate peace with them. He may offer the Dardanelles. Russia has dreamed for centuries of a real seaport. Kaiser could regain the Straits later, after defeating the other allies. Fill hungry Germans with Russian grain and they will follow the Kaiser anywhere. If he can starve England, he will be the absolute dictator of Europe. With the English navy added to his own, he could dominate the seas completely. A big indemnity from Uncle Sam's fat purse would certainly look tempting. Would Japan and Mexico join the Kaiser? These are later possibilities. This is no wrist watch war."

Patriots might remember that there is no bar preventing them from selecting themselves for Uncle Sam's service.

NOT TO BLAME.

No criticism can attach to Adjutant General Tharaldson, Major Wright or the troopers who have been forced to carry out the orders of Governor Frazier, commander-in-chief of the national guard.

It may be uncomfortable for them to be placed in this predicament, but they are soldiers and it is their sworn duty to obey and not to question or to reason why.

No federal troops have been employed to assist the attorney general in evading arrest, which, of course, is a significant fact.

Of course, the civil laws are still in force and Langer's military subterfuge is not tenable.

The Minot authorities are not so anxious to arrest him as to tear him bodily from his armed guard. Doubtless this is the kind of martyrdom that Mr. Langer wants and is inviting.

Of what importance are the forces of law when you can call out the national guard. If there are any more warrants issued for members of the Non-Partisan league we can expect Governor Frazier to declare a state of martial law.

FIFTY-THREE YEARS.

John D. Cameron of Pawling, N. Y., this is all about him, and we never saw him and he never saw us and maybe never read this newspaper but that doesn't matter.

John Cameron has just retired from active life. It's a long road that has led to the retirement of this man for miles. At least, that is the best estimate obtainable. Cameron has been a railroad conductor.

It is too bad that more information is not to be had about this man. It would be interesting to know lots of things about a man who has done useful work for 53 years.

For a life such as this is just about as inspiring as a life can be, when you get right down to real cases. Fifty-three years of doing honest work, work that has helped make the world a good place to live in—think of that, young men, when you are thinking about your future. It isn't the easy life that is the fullest, best life. The life that produces something, that helps move humanity forward, that does something—that is the real life.

And remember that every bit of honest labor is right in that class.

John Cameron, with 53 years of work back of him, ought to have a mighty fine feeling of satisfaction within him as he looks down the stretch of life's real sunny side.

Will American slang produce an equivalent for "doing his bit"? How about doing his best?

TRAVELERS MAY MAKE OWATONNA MEET "JOYLESS"

Proposal That Entertainment Features Be Eliminated Seriously Considered

NECESSITY FOR ECONOMY REASON FOR SUGGESTION

Council Which Is to Play Host Would Be Reimbursed for Preliminary Costs

Bismarck Council United Commercial Travelers is advised that the grand executive committee of the organization, jurisdiction of Minnesota and North Dakota, is considering abandoning all entertainment at the grand council meeting in Owatonna, next month.

Because of the crisis facing the nation, the grand executive committee, at a large extent, feel that the time is not appropriate for social celebrations.

Red Wing Council Acts.

Attention has been focused on the subject by the passage of resolutions by the Red Wing council, advocating the abolishment of entertainment because of the utmost economy necessary during the war.

The Red Wing council proposed that money spent by Owatonna in preliminary advertising be repaid from the general fund and that the meeting confine itself strictly to business.

Peterson Urges Action.

George M. Peterson of Duluth, grand counselor, urges that "unless the war situation changes very soon, a business session should be the only consideration."

J. M. Dresser, grand secretary, has written to members of the executive committee, asking opinions on the advisability of calling off the entertainment.

Blow to Owatonna.

The abolishment of the amusement features would be a blow to the citizens of Owatonna, who have laid great plans for the entertainment of the commercial travelers.

F. W. Heuer, chairman of the hotel committee, has made arrangements for housing the greatest throng of travelmen in the history of the jurisdiction. Mrs. George C. Darby, chairman of the women's committee, recently issued hundreds of invitations to wives of travelers.

BIG NIGHT FOR KNIGHTS TONIGHT—ALL TRAVELERS WELCOME AT U.C.T. FEED

A general invitation has gone forth for a feed, whose preparation and serving will be superintended by the ladies of Bismarck council. There will be talks and toasts and general good fellowship, and a number of candidates will ride the Angles. The festivities begin at 8:30. Bismarck knights of the grip are asked a so-

The Day at the State House

SCHOOL OFFICERS MEET—

The school officers of Townier county met at Bismarck yesterday, when they were addressed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction N. C. MacDonald.

OBJECT TO INSPECTION—

The board of control this morning was advised that the parties from whom there is contemplated the purchase of some secondhand street car rails at Chaffee, Tenn., object to the inspection of this steel by the man whom the board had designated. It is probable, therefore, that State Architect Sam Crabbe will be sent on this mission.

CEMETERY ASSOCIATION—

The Mercer Hillside Cemetery association, organized and financed, controlled and operated by the women of Mercer, was incorporated with the secretary of state yesterday. The directors whose names appear in the articles are Anetta Z. McFadden, Gertrude M. Rice and Lillian C. Plowman.

40,000 TAGS ISSUED—

Forty thousand license tags have been issued to date, yielding the state $120,000, of which all except a small proportion deducted for the cost of tags and office expenses, will go into the state and county highway funds. A very ardent desire for tags developed locally the latter part of the week when it became known that the secretary of state had spotters

KENISTON ENJOYS HEART TO HEART TALK WITH ONE WHO DIDN'T LIKE TALK

George N. Keniston, secretary of the Bismarck Commercial club, has two complete changes of clothes. One of them is a dress suit, and he changed to wear it a few days ago, when he addressed the Washburn together banquet at the Hotel Washburn.

Now, George N. Keniston all decked out in evening things and George N. Keniston in rough and ready business attire are two quite different individuals, in appearance at least, and it was in the latter costume that he joined two early diners at the breakfast table the following morning.

It chanced that one of Keniston's table companions had sat in the lobby the night before and heard his address. The other had turned in early. Both were travelmen, and the talk rather naturally turned to the big doings.

"Well, how did you enjoy the big talk?" asked Mr. Early-to-Bed.

"Aw, it was rotten," said the other. "That fellow may think he can talk, but he isn't in William Gingsara Eryan's class by a long shot. What to the pilot of the Bismarck Commercial club?"

"Without batting an eye, Keniston replied: 'It struck me just as it did you. I've heard that fellow talk lots of times. I don't think much of his line.'"

And then Secretary Keniston and his critic proceeded to thoroughly discuss the matter in two quite different and dismember the address of the night before. Then train time rolled around and, as the critical knight of the grip arose to leave, Keniston stuck out a paw, and said: "My name's Keniston, brother. I'm sorry I didn't do better last night. Come to hear me some time, when

AT EGELAND TONIGHT—

State Superintendent of Public Instruction N. C. MacDonald will be in Egeland tonight officiating at the dedication of a fine new consolidated school.

TO MEET AT FORKS—

W. E. Parsons, secretary of the North Dakota Educational association, has called a meeting of the executive committee of that organization to be held at the Hotel Dakotah, Grand Forks, at 9 a. m., May 19. Plans for the annual convention to be held in Bismarck next fall will be discussed.

KILLING MANY WOLVES—

During the month of April wolf bounty warrants calling for $1,872.50 were registered with the state auditor. Each warrant is worth $2.50, indicating that 669 wolves were slaughtered during the month. The auditor anticipates that at least double that number will be killed this month and as many more in June. All of these warrants must be placed in cold storage until the next legislative session, when it is hoped that the law makers will make an appropriation for the payment of the wolf hunters. No appropriation was made at the recent session, and the fund is now exhausted.

But the critical knight already was going through the door, and he never stopped going.

NATIONAL LEADERS PRAISE TRAVELERS FOR THEIR LOYALTY

Theodore Roosevelt, Newton D. Baker, secretary of war; William J. Mayo, the great surgeon; Senator Porter J. McCumber, Frank B. Kellogg, Senator Knute Nelson and William H. Taft are among America's great men who have written to Secretary Evebach of the Commercial Travelers' National Patriotic league, praising North Dakota knights of the grip for their initiative, their loyalty and their energetic, aggressive patriotism.

Letters have come from Governor Phillips of Wisconsin, former Governor Hanna of North Dakota, Governor Stewart of Montana, Governor Louden of Illinois, Nevill of Nebraska, Sleeper of Michigan, from George W. Perkins, Henry L. Stimson, J. Ogden Armour—even from Henry Ford of Detroit, commending the Flickertail travelers upon the movement which they have inaugurated.

Jack Ober, veteran among Bismarck travelers, has just purchased from the Corwin Motor Co., his fifth Buick. The new car is a six, and Jack says its a regular road hog when it comes to eating up mileage.

CALLS FOR WARRANTS.

Saturday Evening Letter

By Justice J. E. Robinson

SOLDIERS' TELEGRAM

Senator Joe T. Robinson,
 Washington, D. C.

Please more Heaven and earth to amend military bill so as to give the soldiers fifty dollars a month. The soldier is no dog; he is a man. Give him a man's pay and a man's respect. Please see Senator James and McCumber and push with all your might.

Next week we have twenty cases set for argument and we hope to decide them promptly. I think it were better for the other judges who hear the arguments to keep me writing up the decisions in accordance with their general directions and in that way to dispose of two cases a day. At the close of each argument they might say, Robinson, in this case write up in favor of the plaintiff, or the defendant, one of your conclusive two page decisions.

This week all judges have all been present and at work. Last week there was a general absence of from two to six days. I do wish it were law that no state officer should receive his monthly pay without filing an affidavit showing his daily and monthly service. Then judges would not retire from office leaving a good part of a year's work undone.

My last letter gave a copy of my own decision in a case which has been in court for seven years. The last appeal was filed in our Court a year ago last January and there it has been ever since. This appeal should have been decided and remanded on the same day it was filed. It was a suit on an attachment bond and there was no shadow of a defense. In other words, the defense was a plain obvious sham, as any lawyer could see in ten minutes observation of the record. Yet that case has been on our court calendar for the last sixteen months, with the chances of being there another month or two.

Under proper court rules every appeal should be heard and decided within thirty days after it is filed, and when an appeal is a mere insult to the Court, it should be disposed of in a very summary manner without waiting for any argument. It is time to consider and discuss the causes of the great wrongs which infect our judicial procedure. There must be a change for the better or in time the lawyers and the judges will have to go the way of the saloons. The burden of the law is too great. A dispute of $50, may cost the taxpayers ten times as much. It is nearly twenty centuries since the Good Master denounced we unto those who laden men with burlesque greivous to be borne;—and we will continue to do it. But in one way or another the end must soon come. If those who live on their legal wits do not amend their ways, the people will put them out of business. The saloon was not necessarily an evil. It had some redeeming social features, but it was conducted in such a manner as to make it a burden and a menace to the people, and so it had to go. Indeed there is no reason why any class of men should go through life on the back of another class. Every person should learn to earn his own bread and butter and to make an honest living by the use of his own two hands.

STATE V. NELSON

ROBINSON, J. (Concurring Specially.) This case presents a put-up-job to squeeze some loot from a thrifty miser. It is another case of killing the hen that laid the golden egg, and the result is the same.

We have a court drama in four acts. As the story goes, at three o'clock one Sunday in July a young lassie, nearing her teens, went into the store of a miser, gave him five cents for candy, went into the back room where she saw some apples and he went there too, set her standing on an old rickety chair, and fondled her. They spoke not a word during the ten minutes she was in the store. There was no kissing or caressing. She was not given even a peck. She went out and ate her candy, then called on a playmate and told her story in four words, and when night came, told her mother, a widow who did work for the wife of the miser. In this drama the lassie is the hero, the miser is the villain, the mamma is the widow in the background. The playmate and the mamma say she told the same story to them. The miser swears the story is untrue; that it is a complete fabrication; that in July on Sunday afternoons his store was crowded with customers; that there were no apples in July. Of course he was found guilty and his sentence was nine months and five hundred dollars. He pays probably a thousand dollars for defense, rather than to pay a few hundred dollars where it would have done the most good.

In such a case the desire of the jurors to be on the laughing side and to show a mock horror of things scandalous and incredible, may lead to the conviction and ruin of many an innocent person. There is no natural desire in man or in any of the lower animals today any such thing. The conviction was on the mere word of the girl, against the oath of the defendant, I say it was on her word, because she was too young to be a natural oath or to incur any penalty for false swearing, and she was probably well enough pleased to make the hero in a theatrical court, with the State's Attorney and the judge in turn leading her, prompting her and putting words in her mouth and addressing her with the greatest familiarity.

On such evidence no jury would have thought of convicting a man of an ordinary theft, but because the charge was incredible, ridiculous and scandalous, the defendant was convicted and sentenced to 9 months in jail and a fine of $500. The girl confessed she was told what to say, and she said it under manifest pressure and reluctance.

The cross examination of defendant was highly improper and it merits a severe rebuke. After defendant had been sworn and denied the charge in the most positive and circumstantial manner, the State's Attorney asked him: Did you not do the same thing with this one and that one and several others? He asked some fourteen accusing questions for the manifest purpose of poisoning the mind of the jury and by each accusing question the State's Attorney did in effect affirm that it was true. It is high time for this Court to make known that such a procedure will not be tolerated and that it is cause for disbarment. In the conduct of a case no attorney has a right to make himself a witness by putting accusing or vexatious questions. Under such a procedure a man's innocence is no protection. The veriest Saint may be subject to blackmail by any party or parties who can safely use a little girl as the hero or scapegoat. Indeed, if the accused had been as pure as the angels above, it would have been better for him to have paid $1,000 than to have taken the chance of such an ordeal and the expense of such a trial.

The prosecution is under this statute: Sec. 10250: "Every person who wilfully and wrongfully commits any act which grossly injures the person or property of another, or which grossly disturbs the public peace or health, or which openly outrages public decency and is injurious to public morals, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

The complaint is for an act which grossly injures the person of another and not an act injurious to property or public peace, or public health, public decency, or anything public. There is no averment or claim that the question was public. It is needless to review the manifest error appearing of record. In a prosecution for an act which is grossly injurious to the person of another the information and the evidence must state facts showing some material physical injury to the person and not merely a mental or moral injury, such as may result from vile or abusive language. The statute plainly refers to a willful act which does a great injury to the physical person of another. Neither in the complaint nor in the evidence is there any statement of facts showing a gross injury or any injury to the physical person of another.

J. E. ROBINSON, Judge.

All World Sets Aside Day To Pay Honor to Mothers

The whole world will combine tomorrow in celebrating "Mother's day."

This day, on which the best mother that ever lived—YOUR MOTHER—is honored by all sons and daughters not only in the United States, but in Europe, Asia, Australia, Canada and even Africa.

Custom has chosen the white carnation to be worn tomorrow.

"Mother's day" was originated by the late Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, in 1907. She invited friends to spend the second Sunday in May with her, to commemorate her mother's death, and announced her plan for the observance of "Mother's day."

She spread the campaign by writing letters to newspapers throughout the country and by winning over influential men and women in favor of the idea.

The next year "Mother's day" was celebrated in several of the largest cities in the United States. The year later the idea had spread through Europe and now it has been taken up by large organizations of all important countries in the world.

The G. A. R., Confederate veterans, Sons of Veterans, secret and fraternal organizations all over this country and in Europe have adopted the plan and are working to make the observance more popular. The day is for everyone, regardless of religious belief.

Miss Jarvis chose the white carnation as the memory flower because "its whiteness symbolizes the purity of a mother's love, its endurance, her fidelity."

To Be June Bride. At a charmingly appointed luncheon given this afternoon by Mrs. Alexander Schutt of Avenue B, the engagement of her sister, Miss Orba Dean Savers, to William Robert Torgerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Torgerson of Grand Forks, was announced. Cards on which were written the names of Miss Savers and her fiancé and presented during the luncheon was the way the hostess took to convey the interesting news. The table held a centerpiece of Killarney roses and tulips, the blooms being studded in moss in a Japanese basket and tied with a maline bow. Pink and white were the color tones. Members of the L. O. P. H. club were the guests. The engagement will terminate in an early June wedding. The bride-elect is very well known in the city and in the eastern part of the state.

Passes Medical Examination.—The many friends of Dr. John H. Moore, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Moore of Fifth street, will be glad to learn he passed successfully the medical examination of Cook county, Ill., and is now eligible as an interne in a Cook county hospital. Dr. Moore will graduate in June from the Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill. He has already enlisted for the Red Cross service in France, but will take up interne work in one of the hospitals before leaving. Many of the physicians in his unit leave shortly for France. A number of the young graduates were asked to do interne work before going to the front. It was through the advice of the university instructors, carrying out the government's orders, that Dr. Moore was persuaded to stay behind.

Seat Sale Opens at Finney's For Fairland Operetta

The seat sale for the Fairland operetta, "The Pixies," which will be given by the school children under the direction of Miss Clara Tatley Wednesday evening in the Auditorium, opened today at Finney's. "The Pixies" is one of the most elaborate entertainments ever to be put on by the capital city school children. One hundred children from the grades and high school will be seen in the cast. The role of the fairy queen will be filled by Miss Ruth Eilenmeyer. Walter Penwarden will interpret the prince and Cyril Grace the ruler of the goblins. Many beautiful scenes are introduced in the operetta. Special costumes of the rainbow colors will be worn by the fairies and the stage settings will represent fairyland.

Miss Tatley is assisted by Miss McLeod. A full rehearsal was held today in the Auditorium.

OLIVER COUNTY WILL BUILD GOOD ROAD TO CONNECT RED TRAIL

Oliver county this year will concentrate all of its resources and efforts upon the building of a trunk line highway connecting with the Red Trail a few miles east of New Salem and extending due north through Center to Fort Clark. This decision was reached during a conference which the county commissioners had with Assistant State Engineer P. W. Thomas this week.

Three principal trails were considered—the north and south trunk line; one paralleling the Northern Pacific railway tracks, and another running through Square Butte Valley. The first named was agreed upon as the most important. About $4,000 will be available July 1 from county highway funds, and there will be some state and federal aid. The completion of this road probably will result in deflecting through Center to Fort Clark, much of the automobile traffic which now takes a cross-country route.

Mr. Thomas goes to Rugby on Monday to look after some bridge work. State Engineer Bliss returned today from a week's tour of the eastern part of the state, where he met with several county boards.

WHISKERS

The Old Timers Used to Wear 'em and Wallie Schang Has Scared Several Southpaws With His Charlie Chaplin Crop.

TOM HUGHES AS HIS FAMOUS NAMESAKE CHARLES EVAN

BY PAUL PURMAN.
It is years and years ago since ball players in flowing beards, hence mustaches and sedate mutton chops took the field.
Even the trifling hirsute appendage on the upper lip had completely disappeared from baseball several years ago, until Wallie Schang, catcher and Apollo of the Philadelphia Athletics appeared on the field wearing a delicate Charlie Chaplin dangle from his upper lip.

His first appearance in New York frightened Pitcher Russell that he grooved one for Wallie, who took mean advantage of it and clouted it into the stands for a home run.
Russell declared after the game that he didn't know it was Schang and thought he was pitching to Cy Falkenberg in disguise.
Harkling back to the old days in baseball, it used to be quite the rage to appear on the field with every sort of lace curtains from the sem-infested face-obscuring whiskers to the carefully nurtured van dyke and the solemn muttonchops.
Ara Brannard, one of the greatest of old time pitchers, must have been an imposing sight when he walked into the box. His face was entirely covered by a heavy black beard, which hung down to the second button on his shirt and several other players on the old undefeated Cincinnati Reds wore curious brands of shambony on their land-capes.
A little later beards went out of style, but the players retained mustaches of various sizes and descriptions.
Charley Hadbourne of the Providence team wore a huge horseshoe mustache, and Robert Ferguson, the only player-president in baseball, president of the old National association, had a mustache of awe-inspiring dimensions.

Whiskers could be particularly no for the player who slides into a base in a cloud of dust and some players could use them to great advantage as soup strainers or to save catching shirts offener.

Cardinals eliminate the pests of the grandstands.
All hail the St. Louis Cardinals. Risking a trifling loss from concession receipts the Card management has catered to the comfort of St. Louis fans by eliminating from its stands the universal baseball pest, the peanut, popcorn and pop peddler, whose supreme delight it is to find the soft and tasty corn, the pet ingrowing toenail and the desperately painful bunion and then to grind a hog-nalled heel into the delicate spot and watch with fiendish grin the convulsions of pain on the victim's face.
The Cards have done away with this particular pest. No more in the St. Louis stands is the cadrum shattered by the raucous voice of the pop boy bawling his wares. Never again is the "nice serge suit" sprayed with drippings from the inevitable ice cream cone or the loam from a too-ripe pop bottle.
The cold redhot, the last summer peanut, the stifling twofers have vanished from the trays which formerly landed knockouts behind the ear of the unprepared fan and the devotee to ice cream cone and red pop must go to the concession stalls to get his own.
The score card graft has also been eliminated at St. Louis, the management giving score cards free to fans.
Verily the Card management has liberated the slave of the grand stand and bleachers.

ADOLPH KNOCKED OUT

(Special to Tribune)
Edgely, N. D., May 12.—After eight rounds of spectacular sparring, with neither having very much advantage, Adolph Weitz dared to offer an opening and fell the victim of one of Sallor Benson's "haymakers" at Jud last night. With tiger-like swiftness the glove of Benson's right arm swung to the jaw of Adolph. A few seconds later he staggered to his corner, defeated for the first time since beginning his boxing career.

OLNESS BOOSTING FOR BIGGER PATRONAGE OF STATE HALL INSURANCE

Commissioner Urges Assessors to Point Out Advantage of Co-operative Plan

S. A. Olness, state insurance commissioner, is anxious to see every North Dakota farmer make a thorough test of the state hall insurance plan this year. At the next session of legislature there will come up for consideration a general state hall insurance law, framed under the provisions of an amendment to the constitution which has been approved by the people and passed by two legislatures. Mr. Olness believes the experience of North Dakota farmers this year will offer a valuable guide to the law-makers.

Farmer Needs Protection.
"In view of the abnormal conditions owing to the world war, with extraordinary high prices of seed grains and labor, I take it that the provident farmer will, this year, more than ever take out insurance to protect himself against hail," says the state commissioner in a letter to assessors.

There are open to him four courses: Either insure in the so-called line companies, the mutual, the state, or self-insurance, "standing his own risk." The line insurance plan is costly, especially under the increased rate. The mutual companies charge practically the same, with a prospect of rebate. Self-insurance is the cheapest, but not always the best, especially in cases where the farmer is in debt. In many cases it means the ruin of his last chance, if he suffers a total loss.

Why the State Plan.
"Allow me to point out why I think a farmer should patronize the state plan: Because it is his own institution, and all premiums are kept within the state. It is the most economical, because of the extremely low operating expense. Still it is safe and adequate, because you get exactly what you pay for, which is more than can be said for the other plans.

Some Figures.
"With apology to W. W. Felson, auditor of Pembina county, I present the following comparative table: Old line insurance, at the 65-cent rate on maximum loss of $800, would cost $52. Under the state plan, at 30 cents per acre, the premium for 100 acres, and a maximum loss of $500, would cost $30, with an assessor's fee of 50 cents. Deduct under the old line plan from $500 the premium of $52, balance $448. Deduct from the $500 under state plan the premium of $30.50, balance $469.50. There is a saving under the state plan of $21.50. In case the $30 had to be borrowed for six months at 16 per cent, the cost under the state plan would be about $32, or a saving of $20.

"It is the opinion of Mr. Sheehan, who has been connected with the hall department four years, that if there were a general patronage of this plan, the state could pay 100 per cent on the loss."

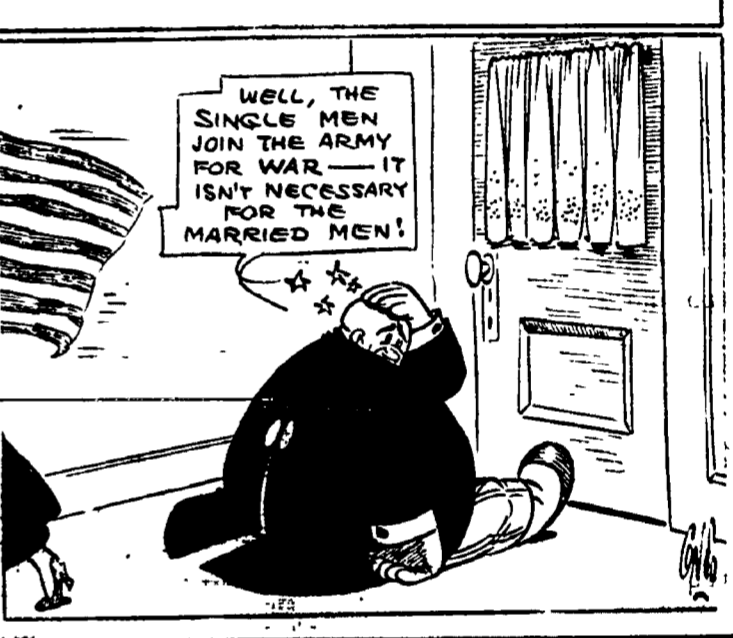

FATHER HINTS AT FOUL PLAY

(Special to Tribune)
Minot, N. D., May 12.—Local authorities have been asked to locate Walter Davenport, by his father at Cambridge, Ohio. The missing man was employed on the T. D. Henderson farm at Velva and was prominent in poultry circles, being one of the officials at the Minot poultry show. It is reported that he came to Minot two weeks ago on business, remained two days and then disappeared without apparent reason. His father entertains fear of foul play.

DRIVER OF DEATH CAR ARRESTED IN SAN FRANCISCO
Minneapolis, May 12.—Conflicting reports reached Minneapolis yesterday regarding the capture in San Francisco of E. H. Hamilton, alleged driver of the death car in which George Connelly, the murdered Twin City patrolman, was captured. One version was that Frank McCool, held in Omaha in connection with the crime after an unsuccessful attempt to escape here yesterday became despondent and told the police everything. Another story was to the effect that two Omaha women with whom McCool and Hamilton are said to have made the rounds of the Omaha saloons, told the police everything.

BELL TO ORGANIZE BURLEIGH COUNTY FOR LIBERTY LOAN

Vice President of First National Bank Made Chairman in Place of G. H. Russ

CALLED TO ATTEND STATE
MEETING AT GRAND FORKS

Representatives From All Parts of North Dakota to Assemble Next Tuesday

J. Leonard Bell will organize Burleigh county for taking up its share of the "Liberty Loan." Mr. Bell accepted this responsibility today, relieving George H. Russ, Jr., who is called to Fort Snelling. The Burleigh county chairman will go to Grand Forks next Tuesday to meet with other county representatives and map out the North Dakota campaign. George H. Russ, Jr., this morning received a wire from the executive committee for North Dakota, advising him of his appointment as chairman for the organization of Burleigh county. The message, signed by L. B. Hanna, chairman, E. J. Weiser, A. E. Hunter, C. R. Green, W. J. Moenrich, secretary, and T. L. Beneker, reads: "The undersigned, appointed by the federal reserve bank at Minneapolis as an executive committee for the purpose of securing subscriptions to the government liberty loan, have selected you as chairman to organize your county to make necessary arrangements for placing North Dakota's allotment. A meeting is called of the county chairmen from your part of the state to meet with the executive committee at the Commercial club rooms, Grand Forks, at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, May 15. The government expects every bank to do its share in placing this loan. Your attendance is expected as a duty which you owe to your country, and we would be glad to have you arrange for bankers and others from your county to be present."

A later wire from former Governor Hanna requests that Mr. Russ arrange for the Commercial club rooms for a meeting to be held in Bismarck on the 17th. It is anticipated that every banker and representative of every financial interest in Burleigh county will attend the meeting here.

Again Resorting To Liquid Fire

British Headquarters in France, via London. (From a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press.)—While there is no general battle in progress, intensely bitter fighting has flared up along the British line in the vicinity of Lens, almost to the south of St. Quentin.

Much of this is due to the desperate attempts of the Germans to retake some of their old positions. They still are hurling fresh reinforcements by day and by night into the conflict, which ever is becoming more sanguinary. The Germans are resorting again to the use of liquid fire, but even that barbaric weapon has now failed.

Bullecourt and the section of the Hindenburg line which joins it has been the real battle ground and the Germans are frantic to hold their part of Bullecourt. The fighting here has been marked by the use of all the more barbaric devices of war, for in addition to liquid fire, gas has been used from time to time, boiling oil has been thrown, and grenades, rifle grenades and trench mortars have been employed by the Germans.

Sink Thirteen Submersibles

Washington, May 12.—Advices to the Italian ministry here say 13 Austrian submarines have been sunk in the Adriatic by the Italians during the last week. The same dispatch giving no date, say that for the fourth time within a year, Italian destroyers penetrated the fortified port of Durazzo, sinking four transports with provisions and munitions.

MASS MEETING OF RUSSIAN THIEVES PLANS REFORMATION

Petrograd, May 12.—A mass meeting of thieves was held recently at Rostoff on the Don to demand a share in the new freedom and a chance to turn over a new leaf.

Local officials attended the meeting on invitation. Practically all branches of the profession of thievery were represented, and several of the most accomplished members, made speeches outlining the difficulties confronting them and declared it was impossible to return to honest pursuits without the help of the community. The speakers declared the population had risen against them and went so far as to enlist some of their brothers. During the meeting a bystander complained that he had been relieved of his purse containing six rubles. The thieves protested that it was not the work of a professional and took up a collection to reimburse the victim.

FATHER OF JAMESTOWN BANKER DROPS DEAD

(Special to Tribune.) Jamestown, N. D., May 12.—James D. Graves, 79, retired farmer and pioneer resident of Jamestown, dropped dead at 9 o'clock this morning, on the grounds of the building owned by him. Death was due to apoplexy. Deceased was well known throughout the state and for many years was county auditor here. The late Mr. Graves was a G. A. R. veteran and captain in the War of the Rebellion.

He was father of H. J. Graves, president of the James River National bank here.

Russia Cheers Entente Diplomats

Petrograd, May 12.—Thursday, the anniversary of the opening of the first Duma, an extra-ordinary session of delegates and ex-delegates was held at the Tauride palace. Prolonged applause greeted a speech by President Zoriano in which he repudiated any idea of a separate peace. The whole assembly stood and cheered the Entente ambassadors.

War to the Finish. "The war which has been forced upon us and for which we are in no way responsible must be brought to a successful termination in such a manner that the integrity and national honor of Russia shall be maintained," said President Rodzianko.

"The innumerable sacrifices we have laid upon the altar of this war demand that the peace should correspond with the immensity of our efforts, and that the aim for which we are struggling, the trials and ideals of justice and liberty be assured us. "The struggle for principles so mutually contradictory cannot terminate in a draw, but only in a decisive victory for one or the other of the adversaries. Only defeat of the German militarism can result in happiness."

"Peace in the present condition would only be an armistice of lesser or greater duration. Do not forget that the working classes of Germany however socialist, ardently desire victory for Germany, and her defeat by the Allies would be like the blow of a club for the workers of Germany, who naturally support the imperialistic aspirations of their government."

RAILWAY COMMISSION ADVISED OF TRAGEDY

The state railway commission today was advised that Northern Pacific train No. 111 yesterday struck and killed Ed. Johnson and seriously injured F. E. Johnson on the second crossing east of the N. P. station at Wahpeton. The men were in an automobile. George E. Wallace of the tax commission is well acquainted with F. E. Johnson.

Mechanically Right from "stem to stern"

START at the front of the Allen Car and proceed with a complete examination of its constructional features and design.

You will not find a more nearly ideal "lay-out" anywhere. Only in size is the Allen excelled by high cost cars.

The front axle is drop forged—I-beam section—abundantly strong. The wheel spindles are inclined enough for easy steering.

The power-plant suspension is at three points, eliminating any ill effect from twisting strains.

The motor is an ideal four cylinder design—3 1/4 x 4 1/2—quick, powerful, silent.

The carburetor is a Stromberg with hot-air stove.

The two-unit Westinghouse system of electric starting, lighting and ignition is a standard worthy of the costliest cars.

The steering gear is worm and full gear type with ball thrust bearings—accessible and easily adjustable.

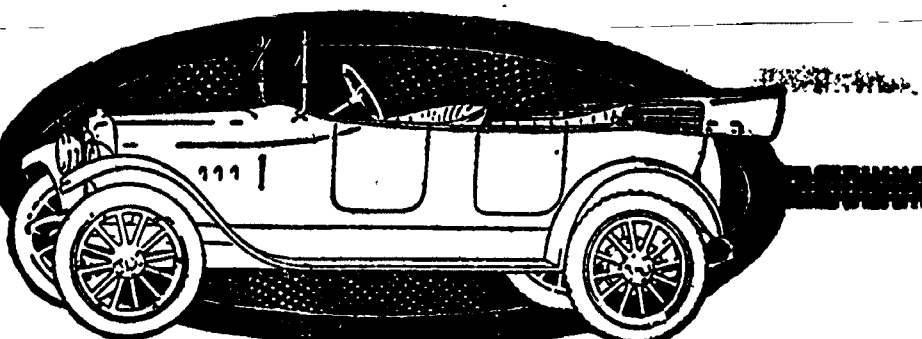

The transmission has big-faced, strong-tooth gears and large dimension carbon steel shafts. Cover plate allows quick inspection and oiling.

When Allen Classic bodies, finished in handsome tones of brown, blue or maroon, are placed on this trim, clean-cut Allen Chassis the resultant car is all we claim—the greatest buy in America under $1000.

You owe yourself a visit to our salesrooms. We welcome the opportunity of a demonstration.

Mr. Farmer—

Here is the style Tractor you will eventually buy. Why not now? This tractor will revolutionize farming methods. It will do your work better, quicker and cheaper than horses; lays its own track and will work on soft or wet soil or plowed field without packing the ground, climb hills and work when and where wheel tractors cannot go, and as there is no slippage the fuel saving is a big item. We have sold these tractors to some of the most conservative business men in the northwest, and we have several of the tractors working on a number of the finest farms near Bismarck, and will be glad to show you these machines plowing, discing, seeding and harrowing. Ask such men as Mr. Edwin G. Patterson, Mr. G. C. Wachter, or Mr. C. O. Engdahl, what they think of their "Creeping Grip" Tractors. We are in a position to make immediate deliveries and if you are in need of a tractor, or perhaps have one that is not satisfactory, we will be glad to figure with you and show you one of the most modern, up to date labor saving machines on earth, and perhaps take in your old machine as partial payment. You are cordially invited to call on us and witness demonstrations. It will pay you to travel many miles to see us.
